++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Windy with blustery, heavy showers.

Today:
A chilly and windy day, with early morning rain clearing to sunny spells and occasional showers. These will turn heavy in the afternoon with a risk of hail, and perhaps some snow over the Pennines and Cheviot hills. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers easing across eastern parts this evening, allowing prolonged clear spells to develop, but a few will continue to affect western parts overnight. Still rather windy, particularly over high ground. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Friday:
Becoming rather cloudy with showers, heavy at times, and snow possible over the hills in the west. Breezy, but wind and showers temporarily easing later in the day. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Rather cloudy and windy Saturday with showery outbreaks of rain, wintry on hills. Less windy Sunday, with sunny spells and a few showers. Largely dry Monday, with sunny spells.
